Are you tired of doing your time alone? Would like someone to communicate with, to write to, talk to on the phone, maybe even someday visit? It will certainly help make time go by faster, giving you something to look forward to, bring you a little joy in those places that have so little.

As CEO and founder of Caged CONquest, I've served more than 20 years in state and federal prisons. I know firsthand the disheartening aspects of not receiving mail and feeling disconnected from everyone. Caged CONquest offers a proactive pen pal portal that actively seeks out people for you to correspond with (unlike most sites which merely post your ad and do nothing more).

Caged CONquest gets your information out to over 50 Facebook pen pal groups and pages. This technique has been proving effective for gaining not just one, but multiple pen pals and resulting in many happy and satisfied inmates with our service. Whether you're able to communicate through electronic means or through snail mail, we can get you pen pals.

Fill out the form and send it along with a photo and the subscription fee and your profile will be posted on our site and our Facebook page, as well as sent to more than 50 sites catering to prison pen pals.
